SUMMERTON NEWS ITEMS

AS SENT IN BY "NUB"

NO. "49"—Section II

In our closing paragraph of number "49," we said that we would say something about the larger girls and boys and their disloyalty to parents and church and Sunday School, etc. Then we said last week that when we run Section 2 of this number we would not say hard things about any one. And we propose to stand behind everything we say, and if some of the things we mention in this communication does not apply to "you," pass it along to some one say over in "Arkansas."

Are we justified in saying that we have fallen upon evil times? "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge." The young people have inherited the weaknesses, or had we better say the sins of their parents, and have gone beyond in the forgetfulness of God and His will and the finer things of life.

The saddest part about the story of Lot is, not that it is a true story; but that it is a representative family that is pictured to us. The story reads like a familiar history of many a family in this year of grace, 1921. A few touches of imagination and the story fits in perfectly fine in the present age. Lot was a sincerely lover and sincerely maker. That is why he was in Sodom. It was not long before he had a corner lot or two, and a good bank account and was a director in all the business enterprises of the city, a member of the city council, and sitting with the big men of the city. And it was not long before Lot's children sat up and took notice. "The old man," has plenty of stuff and we will not make around with the dull set, that go to the synagogue on Sunday and to the prayer meeting on Wednesday night, the truth of the matter is the old folks at home are me. They are behind the times. Dad is a back number. He has lots of money, but he does not know how to enjoy it. Ten gallons of gasoline burned up on Sunday in nothing, when it came to a young man taking his girl out to ride. (So you see by this that Lot is living in the twentieth century and in Clarendon County, and shall we say Summerton?)

It was not long before Lot's daughters were going to ride with the healthiest young men of that city. Twice a week the "Klaxon" would sound at the gate at ten o'clock at night. (Is it possible that such things as that happen in the twentieth century?, let us believe not.) And away they went and were gone until two. After a while the wickedness of the city brought down the wrath of the Almighty upon it. And Lot went to warn his daughters; but "he seemed to them as all that mocked." Most of the details in this ancient story are supplied from our present day social conditions. Our young people have gone far afield. The dancing hall, the swimming ponds, the automobiles and other things have the right of way. It is sad to see our young people living as if there was no difference between right and wrong, vice and virtue. Heaven and Hell God and the devil. "Eat drink and be merry" is the motto we fear with lots of our young girls and boys. But after a while this better light will dawn and the precious young people will find out that this world is not a play house and that life is not a frolic.

Capt. J. C. Lanham, of this place who, hold a responsible position as traveling salesman for Messrs. E. F. A. Weiters & Co., of Charleston, and who is one among our best and well informed citizens has handed us the following letter which is a copy of a letter just mailed our Congressman. Capt. Lanham travels a part of Clarendon, Williamsburg, Lee, Sumter and Kershaw counties, and knows pretty well the condition in his territory.

Hon. W. Turner Logan,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Sir:—

As a very humble citizen, I would like to be in a position to express my appreciation of the spirit that prompted President Harding's inquiry and concern in matters pertaining to the Southland, and to approve of his efforts to try to arrive at a happy conclusion, the truth, which can have no one. A man in Washington or anywhere else getting three square meals per day can't tell what the other fellow on the creek or river banks or in the woods, or on the farm is getting, unless he find the truth of the matter from reliable sources, fully. If President Harding finds that the farmers need relief, and he can use the Government to protect them, as the Government of Brazil protects the coffee growers when the prices are below all reason, the sooner he can do it the better, for time is fast passing. The tobacco farmers tell me in many instances the price received will not defray the expense of the labor putting the crop in the burs, to say nothing of the expense incurred to produce the crop.

In the small territory that I travel, the boll weevil is playing havoc, and many farmers tell me they can't possibly make over 25 per cent of crop of cotton, on this year's acreage. I know the merchants have all the load they can afford to worry with, and perhaps more. The South could make headway all right if the farmers could only get a fair price for their crops. But unless there is a change for the better, it might be worse than pellagra.

I would advise you to write your constituents in various sections and get the facts before making any elaborate speech or statement. I would tell you every condition if I knew them all.

I don't think it has got quite to begging time yet, and really I believe most of us would mighty nearly die before we would beg; but I do hear a lot of begging for credit and extension.

With best wishes,
Yours truly,
J. C. Lanham.

Rev. W. S. Trimble of Herndon, Va., preached a very forcible sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and very feelingly expressed his great love for the good people of Summerton, and from the unusual large crowd present he was obliged to recognize the fact that he was also loved in return. If we are any judge of a good preacher and a good pastor as well as a good man we would take Brother Trimble as that combination.

We are very grateful to some good looking young lady for several news items this week. That's right "Sis," when anything happens help your "Uncle Nub," out in getting it to The Times. We certainly do appreciate such deeds of kindness. And the only way we can hope to have the kind of a letter Summerton should have is to have the assistance of the community. For our little "Thimble full" of brains work very slow some times.

SWEET BILL FINISHED

Washington, Aug. 2.—Congressional action was completed today on the Sweet bill to consolidate government agencies dealing with former service men, when the house adopted the conference report. The measure now goes to the president.

Representative Sweet (Republican) of Iowa, author of the bill, told the house it was estimated $480,000,000 annually would be expended under provisions of the measure, $13,000,000 of the total going for administration.

During the last fiscal year he said the agencies which the bill consolidates spent approximately $460,000,000.

After Representative Mondell, Republican leader, had declared no nation had ever been more generous in its treatment of war veterans, Representative Garrett, acting Democratic leader, remarked he did not like to think of former service men as "objects of generosity."

"DUG UP" HIS MONEY

Greenville, Aug. 2.—After contracting for the purchase of a well known low priced automobile, a negro farmer near Easley today took the salesman to his farm where he took a shovel, went out into the pasture and dug up a glass jar which was found to contain $500 in bills.

Firestone

30x3½ STANDARD NON-SKID

The Fastest Selling Tire In America

The increasing popular demand for the Firestone Standard 30x3½ inch tire over a period of years has given us big volume. Our Plant No. 2 devoted wholly to this size tire with a capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes per day cuts costs on every operation. On May 2, we dropped our price to $13.95 passing on to the car owner the full benefits of this big sales volume and this labor-saving plant. This tire has been our standard for years—four plies long staple fabric—extra gum between plies—heavy non-skid tread. The greatest value ever offered car owners. Insist on Firestone.

Our Cord Tire Values

Firestone Cord tires are made exclusively in Plant No. 1. Our process of double gum-dipping each ply of cord gives thicker insulation. The massive non-skid tread, with extra thickness where wear is most severe, gives real effectiveness in holding the car against slipping and adds many extra miles of service.

Firestone Cord tires are sold at the lowest prices in cord tire history: 30x3½, $24.50; 32x4, $46.30; 34x4½, $54.90.
